An important and historic new program entered into by the college will be made public for the first time at the annual Alumni Luncheon, Sunday, March 17, 12:00 noon in the Fairfax Room, Sheraton-Boston Hotel, Boston.

Unofficial sources indicate that Dean Hyman Kamens will reveal details of an agreement between the college and a teaching facility which will have a great impact on Optometry and Optometric education.

Although details cannot be revealed at this writing, sources indicate that this agreement will be a milestone in Optometric education, and that its far-reaching effects will be hard to calculate at this time.

Also at the banquet, the only living member of the class of 1920, Dr. Ward Lincoln will be honored and will be invited as a guest of the Alumni Association.

Also highlighted at the luncheon program will be the installation of officers conducted by Dr. G. Bert Holmes. Included in the program, will also be a report from the Board of Trustees by Dr. Otto Hochstadt, secretary-treasurer of the Board; recognition of the honored classes by Dr. John Callinan; and a report from the incoming president, Dr. Alton Lamont.

Traditionally, this luncheon has been the kick-off for the Congress for all alumni. However, this year a contact lens seminar will be held in the morning before the luncheon and thus will cause more alumni to attend this annual affair.

Last year an attendance far exceeding advanced registration caused many people embarrassing moments. Your Alumni Association wants to help you. But you must do your part by returning the enclosed registration blank immediately. The hotel must be notified as to the number of meal guests that will be served. And it is imperative that the Alumni Association not lose money by trying to "guesstimate" the number of people that might attend. Forewarned is forearmed. So please act now, and send in your check and registration. Of course your wife will attend!

All alumni attending will be seated with their graduating class so that old friendships can be renewed more easily.

Alumni Association officials have indicated that the meeting will be adjourned in time for the alumni to attend the opening sessions of N.E.C.O.

Class Agents Corner

Now is the time for all good alumni to come to the aid of their organization. It's March luncheon time again! The scenery has been somewhat changed this year, — the Sheraton Boston.

The Class of 1943 is the 25th anniversary class and will be so honored. Members of that class should be watching for correspondence from their class agents:

Dr. Arnela Levine
1146 Beacon St.
Brookline, Mass.

Dr. Robert Kraus
43 Holland St.
Somerville, Mass.

Other years to be honored are as follows:

Class of 1963
Class of 1958
Class of 1953
Class of 1948
Class of 1938
Class of 1933
Class of 1928
Class of 1923

Please be sure to make your reservations early. Last year's luncheon was completely sold out and this year promises to be more of the same. I would request that the agents of the above mentioned classes (or their representative) meet with me in the banquet room one-half hour before the start of the luncheon.

Noted Ophthalmologist Enlightens Alumni at Winter Educational Meeting

"To tell the difference between normal and abnormal when viewing the optic disk can be considered to be a major achievement even without a specific diagnosis."

With this comment, Dr. Simmons Lessell, Director of Eye Service at the Boston City Hospital, presented an enlightening one hour illustrated discussion on "Optic Neuropathies."

Well-versed in his subject and relying on a unique and impressive background, Dr. Lessell held the attention of the more than sixty members present at the winter education meeting of the Alumni Association, January 31, at Valle's Steak House, Route 9.

A graduate of Cornell Medical School, Dr. Lessell made an excellent basic presentation of the optic disc pathologies with particular attention to simple tests to determine normality or abnormality.

An Associate Professor of Ophthalmology at B.U. Medical School, Dr. Lessell, among other things stated that a normal optic nerve, in a quick comparison, can be characterized by three distinct characteristics. They are: 1. A rim of pink tissue, 360° around the nerve; 2. The vessels are approximately centered in the nerve; 3. There are approximately nine vessels that cross the margin of the disc.

In discussing his specialty, Optic Atrophy, Dr. Lessell stated that Ishihara Plates used monocularly will almost certainly detect any degree of optic atrophy. He states that the colors and/or one of the double numbers will be affected with optic atrophy. Color vision is usually diminished in these cases.

The Marcus Gunn Pupil Sign is also a major indication of optic neuropathy. In this sign, if a penlight is flashed directly into one eye, this pupil will constrict and will usually cause consensual constriction in the other eye. However, if the light is moved quickly to the second eye and shined directly, the pupil will be seen to dilate and not constrict as would be expected.

In his discussion of optic atrophies, Dr. Lessell covered all degrees of glaucoma, physiologic cups, medullated nerve fibers, primary and secondary optic atrophies, melanoblastoma, traumatic retinopathies, and papilledema.

Dr. John Asarkof, recently appointed Clinical Instructor in Ophthalmology at B.U. School of Medicine, secured and introduced the speaker.

The annual election of officers highlighted the business meeting. Those elected can be found listed on the front page of the Bulletin. Before the election of officers the report of the nominating committee was challenged and the challenge was referred to the Executive Board for review. The Board was also asked to investigate the entire nominating and election procedures.

Dr. Morris Berman, corresponding secretary, suggested two amendments to the constitution dealing with terms of office of the officers and directors of the alumni association. After a discussion, this motion was tabled pending review and recommendation by the executive board.

Dr Alfred Hansen, outgoing president, commended the alumni on their excellent turnout and suggested that the new idea of the dinner meeting outside the college has seemed to become very popular with the alumni.

Dr. Hayvis Wolf of Rhode Island suggested that the neighboring New England State alumni be included in the officers of the association. This suggestion was again referred to the Executive Board.

Dr. Alton Lamont, incoming president, called for an informal meeting of new officers along with advisors, past presidents, and all interested alumni on Thursday, February 15, at 7:00 p.m. at the college.

Following the informal discussion, the meeting was adjourned at 10:15 p.m.

Faculty Members Appointed to B.U. Medical School; College Processes Highest Number of Applications

Dean Kamens announces the following additions to the faculty: Robert Gould, O.D., honor graduate of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, Class of 1967, and Frederick Blank, O.D., honor graduate of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, Class of 1967.

Both Drs. Gold and Blank are members of the clinical staff and will teach in that capacity. May I add, that as Dean, I am proud of the excellent work these two are doing.

Arthur Bruce, M.D. was recently a guest lecturer at the Annual Conference of the Virginia Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

Marshall V. Mark, O.D., Assistant Professor of Optometry at M.C.O. was appointed Assistant Clinical Professor of Ophthalmology at Boston University School of Medicine.

John E. Asarkof, O.D., Instructor in Ocular Pathology at M.C.O. was appointed Clinical Instructor in Ophthalmology at Boston University School of Medicine.

We feel proud of these two members of our faculty!

The College library is almost completely finished. I hope that when you have the opportunity to be near the College you will come in and say "Hello" and see the library. I know you will be impressed.

The number of prospective students has grown with leaps and bounds, and at this writing, the College has the highest number of applications in its history. The number of fully qualified individuals who are filing applications has also reached a peak. Over 95% of the current first year class were given personal interviews, and the College plans to make this 100% for the coming year. Recently, several interested alumni have expressed interest in volunteering their time to grant personal interviews to candidates. The College is very grateful for their interest and welcomes the suggestion.

We plan to make use of their knowledge in bringing the best possible student to our profession.

I, personally, want to express my condolences to Dr. Thomas Baker on the loss of his father. I knew "Tom" well: I was associated with him for years at the Clinic. I will miss him a great deal for I valued his friendship and association.

I also wish to express condolences to Dr. William Rosselli on the loss of his father, and to Dr. Paul Crowley on the loss of his wife.

The College wishes to thank the family of the late Dr. Albert Hoffman, Taunton, for the contributions given to the Building Fund in memory of Dr. Hoffman.

LIBRARY INTERIOR is shown following complete renovations started last summer and finished in the fall. In addition to modern library shelves, new furnishings, modern lighting facilities, and new furniture, the library now contains bound volumes of all major Optometric publications. The library has been more than doubled in size and now serves the students more adequately.

Pre-congress Seminars

Attendance at courses will be by advance registration only. Since the afternoon courses are concurrent, one may register only for one course. The number of registrations will be limited. The registration fee for the day course is $10.00, and for the evening course is $20.00. Individuals who are anxious to attend these courses will find an application blank in the forthcoming issue of the New England Journal of Optometry.

Dr. Donald R. Korb, Diplomat in the Contact Lens and Subnormal-Vision Section of the American Academy of Optometry, has utilized a Zeiss Photo-Slit-Lamp through the cooperation of Carl Zeiss. He completed a series of teaching slides which are designed to teach biomicroscopy and biomicroscopy's application to contact lens fitting.

A series of slides has been completed illustrating the use of the biomicroscope in the examination of the normal and abnormal eye. Further series of slides have been completed illustrating the use of the biomicroscope in contact lens practice. Of unusual interest has been the successful photography of corneal edema, including the phenomenon of central circular clouding. The photography of central circular clouding was not possible prior to the advent of the Zeiss Photo-Slit-Lamp, and an article on the detection and photographic recording of central circular clouding will appear in the March Contact Lens Issue of the Journal of the American Optometric Association.

The cooperation of Carl Zeiss in this project is recognized.

The following companies and individuals are responsible for the support of Dr. Donald R. Korb's article in the March, 1968 Journal of American Optometric Association:

Mr. Roy Richardson of Barnes-Hind Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Mr. Edward K. Hueber and Mr. Francis J. Wilcox, Jr., of Kelley and Hueber-East Coast, Inc.; Dr. Stanley Gordon, Contact Lens Guild, Rochester, New York; and Dr. Leonard Seidner of Guaranteed Contact Lenses of New York City and Arizona.

PRESIDENT'S POTPOURRI

By Alfred D. Hanson, O.D.

This Bulletin is entitled the "Winter" issue. At this writing, it is adequately named. New England is known for its cold and snow, and I'm sure this one will go down in history.

However, our Annual March 17th Alumni Luncheon is usually one of the first signs of spring. New hotel, new room, new food, and best of all, renewing alumni acquaintances. Please be sure to send in your reservations today. . . . remember last year! Our committee has promised quicker service and processing at the door. The college, I'm sure, will present some real pleasant and happy news.

Your Executive Board voted to give the Alumni Scholarships this year to David Reed, and Arthur Jankolovitz.

Your Executive Board is finding, like every other local, state, and national group, that people are so busy that they have less and less time for your organization. I sincerely hope we have time to remember what are the most important values in life. Your college should come next in line after your family. Remember please, optometrists are judged by their educational institutions. We have the manpower to accomplish many things in our Alumni Association, if each one would only contribute some of his time.

There is a move afoot to have paid help do the work which you and I could do better. This would be the first step in the wrong direction. Please, won't you stop this! — and only your aid and intervention can prevent this.

I hope as many of you who can, will plan to attend the Pre-Convention courses at the college on Saturday, March 16th. Be sure to take a look at the new library. This is a tremendous improvement to our college, an addition which makes you feel proud of your alma mater.

In January I spoke as your representative to the members of the Senior Class. This was the first time a president of our association has spoken to the Senior class about our association. I feel this was very long overdue, and sincerely hope it will be an established procedure from now on.

At the January Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the college, the board voted to have a member of the Alumni Executive Board, as a member of their Board of Trustees. As soon as their by-laws are revised, this will become an accomplished fact.

This is my last Bulletin message. Where have the two years gone? Our accomplishments have been many. However, I believe in letting deeds or actions speak instead of words. This was all possible because I had tremendous help from my officers, directors, and advisors. I sincerely thank them all and wish the next suite of officers the very best of luck.
